Marketplace Fellows

Mary Allison Anderson, Birmingham, AL
Auburn University: History, English Literature & Communication
Host Family: Stu & Sharon Scott
Job Host: UVA Department of Economics
Mentor: Sarah Hutchinson

Mary Allison is a recent graduate of Auburn University, where she studied History, English Literature, and Communication. During undergrad, she presented Senior Capstone research projects in both English Literature and History. Mary Allison served the Auburn community as a camp coordinator for foster children, community events director for the Student Government Association, and mentor for underclassmen and high school students through RUF. She establishes genuine rapport with those around her and cultivates a zeal for learning through inquisitive research. Mary Allison loves cooking, running, pondering a philosophical question, or challenging her friends on the pickleball court.

Lucy Jones, Memphis, TN
University of Mississippi: English & French
Host Family: Andy & Carrie Macfarlan
Job Host: Causeway Strategies Consulting, NYC
Mentor: Vivian Robinson

Informed by her international experience, Lucy promotes language as the catalyst for positive social change. A graduate of the University of Mississippi with a double major in English and French, Lucy engaged with the rich literary communities of Oxford, MS, and Aix-en-Provence, France. During undergrad, Lucy facilitated communication in multiple leadership roles, from language clubs to local nonprofits such as the Oxford Lodge and the Ole Miss Big Event. Ever the extrovert, Lucy thrives in roles of liaison, collaboration, and creative problem-solving. She loves live music, travel, poetry, and good coffee.

Jobe Arnold, Louisville, KY
University of Louisville: Mechanical Engineering; Music minor
Host Family: Leonid & Vera Volodin
Job Host: 2RS Consulting LLC
Mentor: Oscar Aylor

Jobe earned a master's degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Louisville's J.B. Speed School of Engineering in 2022. During undergrad, he participated in three internships at Midea Group where he worked on designing innovative features for home appliances. Jobe assisted in two research projects on the cutting edge of metal-additive manufacturing technology. His broad skill set allows him to adapt quickly to new responsibilities and integrate creativity in the workplace. In his free time, Jobe exercises his passion for music by playing and producing for several musical groups.

Megan Lee, Richmond, VA
University of Virginia: Cognitive Science; Youth & Social Innovation
Host Family: Ken & Jen Bilchick
Job Host: Elder Research Data Science, AI and Machine Learning Consulting
Mentor: Bethany Crawley

Megan is a recent graduate of the University of Virginia where she double majored in Cognitive Science and Youth & Social Innovation. While at UVA, she practiced the design thinking process through multiple research projects, most notably a capstone project with Madison House, UVA's largest student volunteer organization. She also served on the social media committee of Yahweh Night, a student-led multicultural worship event at UVA. These experiences contributed to her deep curiosity about effective communication and design to create long-lasting change. In her free time, Megan enjoys running, crafting and upcycling, listening to music and podcasts, and getting lost somewhere outside.

Camilla Beeley, Durham, NC/New Haven, CT
Washington & Lee University: Cognitive & Behavioral Science; Poverty Studies
Host Family: Mark & Laurie Mandichak
Job Host: Institute of Law, Psychiatry, and Public Policy
Mentor: Rosy Heinsohn

While at Washington & Lee, Camilla's psychology and poverty-based studies focused on building lasting relationships and understanding the human condition. Her leadership as a peer counselor for first-year students cultivated a passion for mental health and community development, highlighted by her involvement with the Prevention Council of Roanoke and Shepherd Poverty Program. While researching substance use, Camilla received the Levy Neuroscience Fellowship Grant. During her senior year, she worked with a local physician, aiding with COVID testing and relief. In her spare time, Camilla enjoys oil painting, reading, spending time outside, and cooking for her friends and family.

Brogan McCutcheon, Pittsburgh, PA
Grove City College: Math & Science Education; Christian Ministries minor
Host Family: Bryan & KC Verbrugge
Job Host: Turner Group
Mentor: Joel Mercado

Brogan is a recent graduate of Grove City College with a major in Math and Science Education and a minor in Christian Ministries. His personable nature allows him to work well with others in a variety of settings as displayed through extensive undergrad leadership roles. Brogan spent each of his college summers at Summer's Best Two Weeks, where he mentored and coached youth of all ages in many sports. As someone who values effective communication, he strives to lead with integrity, create meaningful connections, and build positive environments for the benefit of others. When he is not at work, you can often find him hosting a game night, playing the guitar, or watching Australian football.

Jacob Dunn, Waco, TX
Baylor University: Biology, Medical Humanities minor
Host Family: Tom & Judy Hatmaker
Job Host: UVa M3 Research Lab
Mentor: Grant Robinson

Jacob earned his degree from Baylor University in the spring of 2020 and matriculated at Texas Tech University Health Science Center School of Medicine. After a year and a half of medical school, Jacob pivoted and is currently interested in pursuing a STEM-based doctorate. He plans to engage in research in an academic or corporate setting. Outside of academia, Jacob served individuals experiencing homelessness in his community and led college students at his church. Jacob enjoys leatherworking, brewing coffee, and playing sports.

Zach Riggins, Pittsburgh, PA
Baldwin Wallace University: Kinesiology; Biology minor
Host Family: Frank & Nancy Berry
Job Host: Physical Therapy & Sports Science
Mentor: John Thier

Zach is a recent graduate of Baldwin Wallace University in Cleveland, where he studied Kinesiology with a minor in Biology. He competed at the NCAA Division III level as a four-year member of the varsity cross country and track teams. During his sophomore year, he spent a semester gaining cross-cultural experience at University College Dublin in Ireland. He also worked as a strength and conditioning coach at T3 Performance and as a camp counselor at an overnight athletics camp for multiple summers. Zach seeks to combine his passion for athletics with his leadership skills to make a positive impact in the world of sport. In his free time, Zach enjoys traveling, outdoor photography, marathon racing, spending time in the mountains, and eating at local pizza shops.

Marketplace Fellows

Reagan Saunders, Washington DC metro area
Grove City College: Exercise Science
Host Family: Bobby & Dawn Jenkins
Job Host: Regents School
Mentor: Kase Luzar

A recent graduate of Grove City College with a degree in Exercise Science, Reagan has experience in coaching, networking, and operations. Working as Grove City College's men's intramural sports president, he recruited and collaborated with campus leadership to facilitate nearly 30 different sports for students on campus. He has coached and trained with basketball players at the high school, collegiate, and professional levels. As vice president of his college housing group, he managed finances, event planning, and philanthropic fundraising efforts. Outside of academia, Reagan is heavily involved in youth sports camps like Summer's Best Two Weeks. He loves playing all sports, finding new genres of music, and supporting the Baltimore Orioles.

Carson Staples, Atlanta, GA
Furman University: Psychology & Religion
Host Family: Craig & Lisa Wood
Job Host: UVA Orthopedics
Mentor: Beth Dixon

Carson is an aspiring physician assistant and recent graduate of Furman University, where she studied Psychology and Religion. Through cross-cultural experiences, Carson developed a complex understanding of medicine and medical systems as well as a passion for caring for disabled persons. In recent years, she gained clinical experience as an inpatient mental health assistant, and as a physical therapy assistant and hyperbaric oxygen technician in Edinburgh, UK. She has a passion for serving as a mentor, evidenced by her involvements in Young Life, Peachtree Presbyterian Church, Camp Greystone, and The Body Project, a body positivity initiative. During her free time, Carson enjoys traveling, spending time outdoors, painting, and being a personal shopper for her closest companions.

Ecclesial Fellows

Samantha Choy, Gurnee, IL
Hope College: Music; Social Witness Ministry minor
Host Family: Kristin Baltes
Job Host: Worship Arts at Trinity
Mentor: Jessica Thier

During her time at Hope College in Holland, MI, Samantha studied music with a focus on piano performance. She developed skills in music history, theoretical analysis, and pedagogy. Samantha spent three years on the Hope College Worship team, where she wrote and recorded original worship music, created instrumentations, planned services and liturgies, and was selected as team leader her senior year. She also pursued an interest in intercultural relations through her ministry minor, which she hopes to combine with her passion for worship arts. Samantha's other interests include reading, drinking a cup of tea, and scouring secondhand stores for vinyls to add to her collection.

Colby Ewert, Bossier City, LA
Louisiana State University-Shreveport: Psychology
Host Family: Jim & Anne Newman
Job Host: Trinity Community & Care
Mentor: John Collmus

Colby is adept at leading teams with efficiency and a sense of purpose. During undergrad, he was selected to be a counselor for Louisiana Boys State and was instrumental in leading more than 400 students in a Mock Government & Leadership Program. Colby attended Louisiana State University-Shreveport, and after graduation, he was selected for the Disney College Training Program. Upon completing this program, he took a leadership role with Volunteers of America where he facilitated group therapy sessions. Colby's passion for innovation and service enables him to view business and marketing strategy through a creative lens. He strives to engage and involve others through encouragement and optimism. When he's not playing golf or basketball, you can find him playing chess, talking to strangers, or drinking coffee.
